

Adrian Mafrici

Recovery Partners

Adrian joined Recovery Partners in 2011 as an OHS Safety Consultant. His prior industry experience is varied from working in travel agencies in Europe, operating a personal training business and strength and conditioning for professional sports teams to sales and marketing.

After completion of undergraduate studies in Exercise Science at the University of Wollongong in 2008, Adrian worked in sales and management of key dealers in the aged care industry. During this role, Adrian gained OHS experience through being on an OHS committee, managing OHS management systems and conducting risk management in the workplace.

Adrian completed a postgraduate Masters degree of Occupational Health and Safety at the University of Wollongong. His spare time consists of family time and travelling wherever possible.

