

Recovery Partners

Kelly Brown

Kelly has been successful in reducing Workers Compensation insurance premiums and implementing Occupational Health and Safety strategies for over 13 years.

Kelly's formal qualifications include a Bachelor of Business (Human Resource Management and Industrial Relations), Graduate Certificate of OHS Management and formal auditor qualifications.

Prior to establishing Recovery Partners, Kelly worked with one of Australia's largest companies in a variety of roles. In these roles, Kelly fine tuned her ability to assist companies prevent injuries and manage workers compensation claims effectively.

Recovery Partners was established in 2004 and is a provider of Workers Compensation and OHS services. The company provides services to clients across Australia and employs a range of professionals including physiotherapist, occupational physiologists, counsellors, phycologists and OHS experts.

Kelly has a passion for helping clients achieve their OHS and Workers Compensation goals through practical solutions whilst still ensuring companies fulfill their legal obligations.

