Rowan Brown

Rowan Brown has been facilitating the safe return to work of injured employees and Occupational Health and Safety strategies for almost 10 years. He has been responsible for reduction in claims and a high return to work rate.

Rowan has assisted in the application and maintenance of a self-insurance licence for a large company and provided training in Injury Management and rehabilitation associates of this company. He has also been successful in reducing Workers Compensation insurance premiums and implementing injury management systems.

Rowan has extensive experience in the auditing and quality management of rehabilitation providers, having developed the procedures for management and auditing of rehabilitation providers with one of NSW leading Workers Compensation Agents, for which he worked as the Provider Relationship Manager.
